

March 2020

Clarity Kids

Parent Connection

Memory Verse

"Perhaps this is the moment for which you were created."

Esther 4:14

Discipleship Ideas for Home

- Snuggle up with your child and talk about a time you had to say "sorry" to your child. Say "I'm glad we can forgive each other. Let's pray together".
- When your child is wronged and needs to work on forgiving someone, allow them to tangibly do something to represent letting go of the anger. Bunch up a piece of paper and throw it, blow up a balloon and release it, or make a paper airplane and soar it across the room.
- At dinner or bedtime, pray for the leaders in your church, school, city and beyond.
- Make a picture or treat for a leader in your child's life. Talk about the importance of having wise people leading us.
- Next time you recognize a situation where someone is making the wrong choice, ask your child how they would stand up for what's right. Remind them that they can ask God for help when it seems too hard.
